nyon, Harold A. Stensgard, Charles E. McCray and Edward M. Vargas. The entire student body, from the low eighth to the graduating seven seniors numbered some 200 students. Charles Moore was principal of the school at that time. The picture was lent to the TIMES by an anonymous donor, and was copied from the 1936 Albany High School "The Cougar" yearbook.

Howell indicates he may run for City Treasurer

ALBANY—Vice-Mayor Lewis M. Howell, whose term on the Albany city council is to end April, 1979, has indicated he may run for the office of city treasurer in the general election in April.

"I'll take the job and take a salary of $300 or less," the vice-mayor said. "I don't think the job is a full time one, now we have a competent, professional finance officer (Roy Paul Endersby). I don't think the city treasurer's job is a full time position" and doesn't warrant the salary."

"As a matter of fact, I will give the balance of the salary back to the city's general fund."

The appointment of Endersby as the city finance officer was made earlier this year with the result Albany has an experienced financial man, Howell said, and he sees no reason to duplicate the services when there is one person capable of taking care of the fiscal duties of Albany.

The present city treasurer, Ellen Zapata, is due to run for re-election on the April ballot.

WHEN YOU AND I WERE YOUNG — Oscar and Ruth Gray, local residents for the past 43 years, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. In the picture above, the couple are shown in front of the old Boardwalk at Santa Cruz. Note the plus four linen knickerbockers on Oscar, and the long black socks, the vogue in those days.

Grays mark 50th year marriage Deadline for tax program

ALBANY — The Fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gray was celebrated last Sunday with gathering of friends and relatives at the home of the couple's daughter, Barbara Ayres.

Held in Danville in conjunction with their son, Douglas, the gathering saw over 75 people at the party, including the newest arrival, a great-grandchild of the couple who also have two granddaughters, Debra and Caren.

The family gave the couple, Ruth and Oscar, a trip to the Hawaiian Islands to celebrate the anniversary.

The Grays have lived in Albany for the past 43 years and both of their children attended the local schools and both are graduates of Albany High School.

Police auction Saturday a.m.

ALBANY — The Albany police department will hold an auction of unclaimed goods Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Police Station, 1000 San Pablo Avenue, according to Chief James Simmons.

The auction will start at 10 a.m., and will include 15 bicycles, hardware and miscellaneous items and end when all the unclaimed merchandise is disposed of, Chief Simmons said.

The auction will be under the direction of Officer Murdo who also will be the auctioneer.

Denmark girl here for year

ALBANY — Marianne Feldberg, 17, an AFS exchange student from Denmark, has joined the family of Ron and Lois Breault for a year. Marianne, who seems to qualify as a linguist, speaks fluent Danish, German, and English, some French, and understands Norwegian and Swedish. She has traveled extensively in Europe.

Marianne, the daughter of Dorit and Svend Feldberg, comes from Esbjerg, a city of 75,000 on the west coast of Denmark. She has one brother, Richard, who is 27. Marianne's host family includes a sister, Adrienne, 17, a senior at Albany High School, and brothers, Ron, 15, and Matt, 13, who also attend AHS.

When asked her feelings about being in the United States, Marianne says, "Everyone is so nice to me. I like to be here. I like my family members."

Some things here are different from those at home. She says driving is different, and the cars and freeways are "very big." Houses in Denmark are made of brick and have big gardens; and finally, the weather is colder there with a little snow in winter, and rainfall and wind are constant. Still, the ocean waters off Denmark's coasts are much warmer than Pacific coast waters.

Food is similar, and Marianne's American mother, Lois, says, "Marianne will be learning to cook this year. We each take one night a week."

Marianne, who attended a commercial school last year, will be a senior at Albany High. She likes sports, and hopes to participate on at least one team at school. To begin her athletic activities in the US, Marianne joined sister Adrienne in a popular teenage pastime, roller skating in Gold Gate Park.

The Breaults are showing Marianne the diversity of the California landscape. The family vacationed in the Mother Lode country, where they panned for gold and visited old mining towns. Other trips include the ever popular coastal towns of Carmel, Monterey, Santa Cruz, and Drake's Beach.

With these beginnings, Marianne and the Breaults anticipate a busy and enjoyable year together.

Hillel offers tenth year of their academy

ALBANY — Hillel Academy, in its tenth year this September, continues to offer an alternative in grammar school education to the East Bay Jewish community.

Hillel's staff teaches all aspects of Judaic studies, including the Bible, Jewish history, and Jewish music, as well as an integrated curriculum of secular subjects. Students start learning spoken Hebrew in nursery school from native Israeli speakers.

Hillel's small classes insure individual attention. Students progress at their own rates and develop their own ways of learning. The staff emphasizes thinking skills such as problem-solving and researching, and believes that security, success, and self-esteem are the results of their training in moral values, which is a vital part of their program. Although Hillel does not believe that high achievement is the single goal of education, it prides itself on many high-achieving graduates.

Albany schools begin Sept. 10 in all grades

ALBANY — The 1979-80 school year begins on Monday, Sept. 10, at all Albany public schools. Parents and students are asked to review the following carefully. Note that school and district offices will be closed on Sept. 3 and 4.

Registration:

Children who have not attended an Albany elementary school or the Albany Middle School previously should be registered at the appropriate school office as soon as possible between 9:00-11:30 and 1:00-3:30, beginning Monday, August 27. Children of elementary age who reside in the University Village are to register at Cornell School. Pupils may be assigned, however, to Marin, Vista, or Cornell schools depending on the enrollment at each school.

Children must be five years of age by December 2 to enroll in kindergarten and six years of age by December 2 to register as a first grader.

Parents of high school students new to Albany are advised that registration will be held in the school office, 603 Key Route Blvd., between 9:00-12:00 and 1:00-3:00 August 28, 29, 30 and 31, 603 Key Route Blvd. Ninth grade orientation and registration will be held on Friday, September 7 from 9:00-11:30 in the Little Theater. Registration for continuing 10th, 11th and 12th graders will be held on Monday, September 10.

Parents of registering kindergartners should bring the child's birth certificate and be prepared to fill out health forms which require a record of vaccinations, immunizations, and childhood diseases. Polio, measles (rubeola) and D.P.T. immunizations of each kindergarten child are now required by California law, and verification of the dates must be presented. A physical examination is recommended for all entering kindergarten pupils and required of first graders. Physical examinations should be completed as soon as possible.

If a kindergarten child has already been registered, a postcard will be sent to the home to indicate the assigned school and classroom.

State pays $112,000 to Albany

ALBANY — The City of Albany is $112,097 richer this week due to the payment by Kenneth Cory, state controller, of money collected by the state for the city. The County of Alameda received a total of $3,042,653 from the same taxes.

Sales taxes collected by the state equaled $67,500 to lead the parade of monies with the "in lieu" tax—the motor vehicle license tax—coming in a distant second with $26,402 being paid the city. The highway users tax, the gasoline tax, took a small drop over the previous month indicating a lesser use of the fuel. The amount allotted Albany came to $12,671 and the smallest payment was for the cigarette tax which amounted to $5,524.

Cory also reported BART was paid $4.65 million from the state from the additional one-half of one percent collected in sales tax from Contra Costa, Alameda and San Francisco counties.

Charter changes set for ballot in November

ALBANY — Battle lines are being drawn on the proposed two amendments to the Albany City Charter. Slated for a decision in the November 6 statewide election, two issues are to be decided.

Voters will be asked to decide whether or not, in essence, they will agree to the construction of senior housing in Albany, and if they will allow a reduction in the parking requirements as now contained in the recent Measure 'D' amendment that limited parking to a basis of 2-1 on all new construction. The amendment would drop the parking requirements for senior citizen housing only and would be restricted to C-E and C-4 zoning with the Albany Planning and Zoning Commission the body to set the parking limits. In essence, the voters will decide on the Eddie Biggs property on the 800 block of Kains. Biggs is proposing a 50 unit apartment house on the property to serve the needs of seniors. The amendment specifically limits occupancy to those where one of the residents is 62 years old or older.

Residents, who are registered voters, also will be asked to change the present Charter to allow members of the City Council who have been elected to fulfill a short term, or those appointed to fulfill a vacancy, be allowed to run again. The case in point is that of three members of the present City Council, Councilwoman Joyce Jackson, Councilmen Louis George and William Lewis.

Jackson was appointed to fulfill the vacancy of Richard Clark who resigned when he moved from Albany. She served 16 months and was re-elected to the Council. Her appointment was short enough to allow her to run

City Council asks B-EB society for copy of By-Laws

ALBANY — The Albany City Council at its meeting Monday night, agreed with the request of Mrs. Joan Schifini, 1104 Curtis Street, Albany, to ask the Berkeley-East Bay Humane Society to submit a copy of its bylaws to the Council for review as to the allegations made of improper operation at the animal shelter.

Mrs. Schifini and Mr. and Mrs. William Cully had petitioned the City to cancel its contract for animal treatment and care with the Society in view of the fact Dr. Thomas Bulgin, former medical director of the facility, had admitted to improper care and treatment of animals under his care when he was in charge of the animal hospital some two years ago. Dr. Bulgin has been suspended from practice, effective September 1, 1979, for two years, according to a court order. He has lost his license as a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine for that period.

Dr. Bulgin admitted to improprieties in the operation of the facility and both Mrs. Tully and Mrs. Schifini stated two of the employees who were working under him and doing operations on animals are still employed at the facility.

Vice Mayor Lewis M. Howell said Mrs. Cully is a "lover of animals" and the fact Dr. Bulgin has admitted to wrongdoing while at the Society in Berkeley has vindicated her stand.

Mayor Robert Luoma's suggestion that a letter be written, and checked by City Attorney Robert Zweben for legal ramifications, to the Society asking for an explanation of its present stand in regards animal care treatment was passed unanimously. It is hoped the letter will re-open lines of communication between the members and the Board of Directors of the Society.

If no action is taken by Berkeley-East Bay Humane Society, it was agreed the City will investigate the possibility of turning animal treatment and care over to local veterinarians.

The Council also instructed City Attorney Zweben to prepare a resolution hiring William O'Keefe as a hoseman in the Fire Department with the stipulation he be informed the Civil Service Board is in the process of preparing a recommendation to the Council that all employees must take a physical examination, in addition to that upon entrance to City employment, before being promoted to another job or rank.

Council sets sewer charge hearing date

ALBANY — The Albany City Council has set a public hearing for Tuesday, September 11, to discuss establishing sewer service charges, according to a notice posted by Jacqueline L. Bucholz, City Clerk.

The meeting, to convene at 8 p.m., in the City Council chambers, will hear residents pros and cons on establishing the fees to maintain the present sewer system in Albany at actual costs, it was said.

With the advent of Proposition 13, the City must turn to other sources of revenue to fulfill the federally mandated sewer infiltration and inflow abatement program and to get a replacement and major emergency repair to the system within the City limits.

It is emphasized the proposed fees are not to be confused with the present sewer treatment charge collected by East Bay Municipal Utility District with the water bill. The EBMUD charge only covers the treatment of wastes and does not concern the sewer system of Albany.

YMCA announces registration for 25 programs

ALBANY — The Albany YMCA, 921 Kains Avenue, has opened registration for 25 programs it will present this Fall, according to Pam Hunt, director of the Y.

Mrs. Hunt said there are classes for all ages, but the class sizes will be limited, so early sign-ups are encouraged.

School age children can participate in the Y's Kids' Club, an after school recreation program designed for the children of working parents and those who need supervision of their children after school hours. Activities include crafts, games, sports, mime, swimming and special events. Starting September 10, the Kids' Club is held after school from 1:50 to 5:30 p.m., and fees average $2.50 per day, which will include all program supplies and swim fees.

Gymnastics for ages 5 to 15 will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., for beginners with Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., for advanced beginners. Gymnastic team practice is held on Mondays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., and on Fridays from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Fees range from $12 for six classes to $30 for the gymnastic team.

The three instructors, Sheryl Moscovitz, Rich Benesovich and Kersti-Weng, will include routines for floor exercises, balance beam, vault, uneven parallel bars and rings in the six week sessions which are slated to begin September 17.

Special youth classes in arts and crafts will be held Monday and Thursday from 4 to 5:30 p.m., Mrs. Hunt said. Peggy Donovan will teach crafts in the different medias including candle making, plaster works, wood sculpture, etc. These special classes also will start on September 17.

Mime artists, Rich Benesovich, will teach mime and dramatics on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in a six week session for a fee of $18. Benesovich is a well known Bay Area performer and has presented a mime workshop at Albany Middle School.

Judo classes for all ages are available on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 to 9 p.m., with Mell Augustine the instructor. He holds a sixth degree black belt and his association with AAU and the Olympics has earned him international fame in his sport. Interested prospective students are asked to attend the first session on September 5 to gain more information on the class.

Karate is to be taught by Hiroyuki Kishimoto, an All-Japan champion. His classes will be held on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at 7:30 p.m.

Skylab fragment on exhibit in SF

SAN FRANCISCO — A small remnant of Skylab, which is the largest and most complex object ever put into space, is currently on display in the main lobby of the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park.

Stan Thornton found the remnant in the backyard of his mother's home near Esplanade, Australia. NASA officials say that this piece is most likely the remains of wood cushioning or electrical insulation of Skylab.

The exhibit includes a scale model of the complete space station and some examples of the aerial photos taken of the earth and the sun during the Skylab mission.

"Skylab: A Piece of History" will be on display through Labor Day. The Academy of Sciences is open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Donald Pippin present opera

SAN FRANCISCO — Donald Pippin and his Pocket Opera will present Stravinsky's "The Rake's Progress" Thursday at 8 p.m., at the Little Fox Theatre. This will be the first contemporary work in the Pippin repertoire which was originally written in English.

Pocket Opera regulars Francesca Howe, soprano, and Margery Tede, mezzo, will perform with four singers making their Pocket Opera debuts: Robert Bernard will play Truiove's father; William Coburn appears as Sellem, the auctioneer; Ellen Lichtenstein performs the Mother Goose role; and Baker Peeples, a finalist in the 1979 San Francisco District Metropolitan Opera Auditions, will sing the part of the progressing Rake. John Trout will appear as Nick Shadow, and Donald Pippin will be harpsichordist, conductor, and narrator.

"The Rake's Progress" will be repeated September 6 and 9. Tickets are available at BASS, the Stanford Barn Box Office or by calling 471-3226.

The Little Fox Theatre is located at 533 Pacific Avenue in San Francisco.

Respite care training will be available

OAKLAND — The Children's Home Society of Oakland is currently operating a respite care program and a class for the parents of developmentally disabled children who live in Alameda County.

Respite care consists of relieving the parents of a disabled child from the strenuous duties required of them and taking care of the child for a short period of time. The child's affliction may be cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, mental retardation or a neurological handicap.

The program will train and supervise qualified persons to care for the disabled child in and out of the home. Foster parents will be trained and licensed for overnight respite care.

The parents of disabled children are offered training classes and workshops throughout Alameda County. These classes will deal with the problems and concerns of the parents.

The Children's Home Society Respite Program is registering parents now and accepting applications from qualified persons interested in the in-home and

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Over the past few years my dog has gotten a lot in his ears and up to the other day my one of the darn caught under her ear. Do you have any suggestions?

Foxtails are the top of various species of that grow throughout the United States. The buggers are calculated, because they resemble a miniature fox. A foxtail has tiny hairs on its surface which catch on anything they begin to penetrate a dog or cat's fur. They're green; during our dry season when they are a very medical problem.

There are only two things you can do to avoid them: you can trim the hair on your pet and the hair on your foxtails. First, you must dig out the hair on your pet and the hair on your foxtails. First, you must dig out the hair on your pet and the hair on your foxtails.

Q. Should I be supplementing my dog's diet with vitamins and minerals?
A. Vitamin/mineral supplementation is unnecessary if your pet is fed a high quality diet. An excellent and inexpensive diet for dogs and cats is a name brand, high quality dry food fed dry and supplemented with a teaspoon of any vegetable oil per 10 pounds of pet (per day). And most pets don't even need the extra oil! A bowl of water must be available to the pet at all times.

Q. Is milk o.k. for my cat?
A. Many dogs and cats (young and old) cannot tolerate cow's milk because of its high lactose (milk sugar) content compared to a bitch's or queen's milk. The high lactose content causes diarrhea. For the same reason, skim milk, nonfat milk and evaporated milk ought to be avoided, as they too contain excessive lactose for dogs and cats. Once puppies and kittens are weaned, they do not need additional milk provided that they are fed adequate amounts of a high quality diet. (For more specific information on diet, contact your veterinarian.) Because of this great tendency to cause diarrhea in dogs and cats, cow's milk should be avoided, especially if a dog or cat is already suffering from diarrhea.

Q. My dog's ears are shaking and pawing at an ear. Foreign object is in it. I've tried six drops of mineral vegetable oil in each ear. The oil will soften the wax and will be temporary relief. You can get an appointment with your veterinarian to have the ears cleaned — which should be quickly as possible.

Q. My dog has penicillin allergies any good for him on my cat?
A. Penicillin seed-pod is of no value as a flea or tick control. The most effective flea control is either flea collars or flea powders with flea control in the house and yard. Follow a veterinarian's advice in your particular case and situation.

Q. Will garlic get rid of my dog's worms?
A. Garlic has no effect whatsoever on the elimination of intestinal worms, either roundworms (ascarids) or tapeworms (flatworms). However, it will give them halitosis. But to get rid of them you must use a medication specific for the worm in question. For roundworms, go to a pet store and buy a worm medicine that has (at least) a piperazine compound in it. Then give it to your pet on two or three occasions at the dosage recommended. For tapeworms, the most effective medications can be purchased only from a veterinarian. (Some veterinarians do not dispense tapeworm medication but restrict its use to the hospital and require that a treated pet spend the day at the hospital.)

The following letter was sent to the City Council: The Albany City Council 1000 San Pablo Avenue Albany, Calif. 94706

Dear Councilmembers: The City Council Meeting of August 20 shall go down in my record book as one of the most disgusting I ever attended. You displayed utter disregard for Council procedure, arrogance, and a calloused public-bellied attitude.

Here's what you did:
(1) You steamrolled through at the last possible minute a proposed charter amendment to alter the definition of "legal term of office" as it applies to the re-election of Councilpeople. You violated Council procedure by voting on this item even though it was not on the agenda (it was not an emergency measure). You ignored the pleas of citizens — to give the proposal more study, to allow the Charter Review Committee the opportunity to review it and to announce it publicly so the citizens, too, could have a chance to take part in discussions. You took action at a time when Councilwoman Jackson was on vacation.

(2) You pushed through a proposed ballot measure to reduce parking for senior citizen housing. Despite the pleading of several leading citizens, you were unwilling to allow enough time for the proper study of this proposal.

(3) In spite of the fact that it was conclusively shown that time was not of the essence and that every proposed ballot measure could wait five months and be combined with the April '80 municipal election, you decided to hold a special November '79 election costing the city $2500 — thus wasting $2500!

In my opinion you showed yourselves up as unfit elected officials in a democratic society. May your tenure come to an abrupt end and you spare the public your abuse.

It is no wonder that there is so much distrust for elected officials.

Yours Truly,
Dario Meniketti
P.S. — My remarks do not apply to Councilwoman Jackson.

Dear Sir:

Gateview Apartments should be changed to Funny Farm or Kooky Apts.

I just went through 31 harassing, vicious calls in a period of 24 hours. Yes, 31 calls. It's impossible to believe anyone could be that crazy and vindictive, but sadly, it's true.

The calls were all carefully logged and now the police and telephone company can easily check out who has been the perpetrator. It might take a few weeks, but they will catch up with the caller, that's a certainty.

It is just one indication of the sickness and social-economic malaise at the Kooky (Gateview) Apts. All they understand is illegal lawsuits, waste of money for management that is no management, unlawful and unauthorized use of Homeowners money, etc., etc.

Self-respecting, intelligent people are moving out in droves rather than pay and pay out monthly assessments. When someone like myself tries to protest, these calls are what you get.

From the Kooky Apts., on Albany Hill.

We recently had occasion to travel to and stay in the Cobweb Palace in Westport, north of Mendocino.

OAKLAND — The Port of Oakland has accepted a capital grant of $640,000 for the development of a transit system that would link the Coliseum/airport, BART station with the Oakland International Airport, according to Thomas L. Berkley, President of the Oakland Board of Port Commissioners.

The grant was approved recently by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation.

This is the second of a two-part grant provided by the UMTA upon the application of the Port. It will be used for the preliminary design and engineering phase of the project.

The Port initiated work on the transit project soon after its initial application for a planning grant of $160,000 was approved by the UMTA in September 1978.

The two grants represent 80 percent of the project's total cost of $1 million. Under the terms of the grant, matching shares of $40,000 and $160,000 will be provided by local contributions.

Plans call for the Port to construct the 3 1/2-mile transit system — known as the Oakland Airport Transit Connector System — to provide passengers with a convenient means of transport between the BART station and Oakland Airport.

This followed a series of studies made by a number of agencies calling for efforts to develop and promote the expansion of Oakland International Airport.

The transit system will consist of an automated electrically powered shuttle service operating on an exclusive guideway linking the Airport passenger terminal and the BART station.

The new system is expected to benefit the users and the urban area as a whole. It will be faster as well as more reliable and convenient than present services available.

Transfer facilities to and from the transit system will be designed to offer maximum convenience. Walking distances will be short, there will be baggage space in the vehicles, and all transfer areas will be weather-protected. Any level changes required will be served by escalators and elevators for the elderly and handicapped.

Current work on the project consists of final route selection, environmental impact studies, equipment specifications, and the design of guideways and stations.

The proposed transit system is expected to be operational by 1984.

Fair continues with daily fun

By SARAH CAHILL

SACRAMENTO — The California State Fair continues through Tuesday with music, carnivals, shows, and lots of entertainment.

The last performance of the Gymkhana Horse Show will be presented tonight at 8 p.m. in the Rodeo Arena.

The show features young riders performing complicated maneuvers on quarter horses, appaloosas, pintos and other breeds. The contests include cloverleaf barrel racing, pole bending, the speed ball competition in which riders try to hit golf balls into cones, and a contest involving pairs of competitors who ride around poles with strips of crepe paper which they try not to rip.

The Sixth Annual Fun Fiddler's Contest is currently presenting over seventy expert fiddlers competing in five divisions. They each have five minutes to play a standard hoedown or a waltz tune, and are judged by past winners Tiny Moore, Hughie Smith, and Glen Tarver. Herman Johnson, five-time National Fiddling Champion, will appear as a special guest at the Contest.

The daily State Fair Carnival, the largest carnival in the West, continues with 85 different rides and nearly a hundred games and food stands.

Passengers in the Flame Ride are hoisted up a spillway in carved out log boats and catapult down a chute at high speed. The Miller Coaster is a permanent metal-frame roller coaster at the Western edge of the carnival. The Screamin' Machine spins passengers 360 degrees around and then lifts off, tilting and spinning in the air. The Sky Wheel is a double ferris wheel.

The Carnival opens at noon daily.

The Floriculture Pavilion provides a lush tropical retreat for fairgoers. For the first time in ten years, a new cover has been put on the Pavilion, shading 200 square feet of flowers and greenery created by competing professional landscape artists.

Other floral havens are nearby. Beyond the Pavilion are the Japanese tea garden, the Handicap Garden Exhibit, special California landscapes and sculpture by Phil Evans, and the Bonsai Island.

The Disabled American Veterans Organization has parked a large mobile van between the Floriculture Pavilion and the Outdoor Exhibit area. The DAV acts as an advocacy group for disabled veterans who wish to receive government benefits. The organization also acts as a referral agency for non-veterans and can help the disabled receive specialized equipment, for example a wheelchair that costs $1200 ($400 four years ago). The DAV provides free help for disabled State Fair visitors: veterans and non-veterans, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. All are invited to stop by the van for a cup of coffee or iced tea. Meetings are confidential.

At the Year of the Child Expo, the Aid to Adoption for Special Kids booth has information on adoption of handicapped children. Robert and Dorothy DeBolt, who were named California Family of the Year with their nineteen children (thirteen adopted, eleven handicapped), will appear at the AASK booth Sunday. The DeBolts founded AASK in 1974 and will discuss the adoption and raising of handicapped children.

According to the Sacramento Association for the Retarded, "It is not generally accepted that a mentally retarded person can be talented or creative." The Special Art Show in the Expo Center proves otherwise. It features art in various mediums by the mentally handicapped.

Kimberly Dewing of Oakview was recently crowned the new Maid of California and reigns over the current Fair. The 20-year-old modeling instructor and freelance model enjoys dirt biking and jogging and intends to use her award, a $1,000 savings bond, to continue her studies at Ventura Community College.

She will appear at various events during the run of the Fair.

The complex process of guide dog training is described daily at the 4-H Building near the Livestock Area.

The dogs are born and bred at the Guide Dog for the Blind School in San Rafael, and when the puppies are six months old they must pass stringent intelligence and personality tests. They are then taught simple obedience for one year in the home of a 4-H member. The temporary owner cares for the dog and attends to all its medical needs, but must part with the animal when it returns to the School after a year. The dog then undergoes intensive training, including maneuvering in various traffic conditions. When it passes these tests it meets its future master or mistress. They train together at the School for 28 days, after which the dog is ready for its career.

The dog training exhibition will present examples of the Golden Retrievers, Labradors, and German Shepherds which are bred to be seeing-eye dogs.

The California Forest Center is an exhibit funded by the private timber industry which pays tribute to the California state forests.

The forest consists of 31 indigenous trees, including redwood, cedar, fir and pine. The exhibit also displays the latest fire-fighting methods, wood carvings, and an antique locomotive.

A map at the Center is equipped with an informative tape recorder and a radio scanner which monitors fire-fighting instructions from ground control to planes within an eleven-county area. Visitors may listen to conversations between the Emergency Control Center in Sacramento and aerial tankers.

Byrd Baker demonstrates his wood-cutting talents daily. In the most popular part of his show he creates a bust of Abraham Lincoln with a chain saw in 15 minutes. Between the 11 a.m., 2 p.m., 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. shows, Baker whittles a huge wooden whale.

A turn-of-the-century narrow gauge steam locomotive has been brought to the Fair from Camino and is on exhibit. It was used by the Michigan California Lumber Company to haul timber in the late 1800s.

The Energy Expo exhibit in the Expo Center provides ideas on energy conservation and alternative fuels. The Energy Commission has displayed a car powered by gasoline, a blend of 10-15% alcohol and 85-90% gasoline. According to the Commission, gasoline-powered cars run very well and their exhaust is much cleaner than that of cars using pure gasoline.

Teflon fluid, which is added to oil to increase mileage, is another exhibit at the Expo. Some major trucking firms which use Teflon fluid report mileage increase up to 25%.

The Community Resource Project describes their solar training and utilization program with an exhibit at the Expo. The federally-funded program trains women, Vietnam veterans, ex-offenders, and young adults to be solar technicians. Their training includes installing solar heating and solar water-heating units in low income homes. CETA-qualified persons are invited to drop by the exhibit. Homeowners who are interested in having solar units installed in their homes are welcome, especially the elderly and the handicapped.

Sausalito art and lots more at Festival

SAUSALITO — The Sausalito Arts Festival will celebrate its thirtieth year with entertainment, arts, and crafts this weekend at the Sausalito Civic Center.

Beneath a pavilion made of panels from Christo's Running Fence, a hundred jury-selected artists will display and sell their creations. Strolling musicians, magicians, and jugglers will perform throughout the Festival and community groups will sell various exotic foods and drinks.

A special retrospective will honor Sausalito artists of the 1950's, many of whom first gained recognition at the Sausalito Arts Festival. The Festival will be held 10 a.m.-6 p.m., on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Sausalito Civic Center is located at Bee and Caledonia Streets.

ALBANY SENIOR CENTER NEWS

By JEAN KRAMER

Mini-editorial

Elderly people wishing to attend functions at the Albany Senior Center, are greatly disturbed by the fact that there are no stoplights at the corners of Marin and Masonic and Solano and Masonic. Both of these avenues have now become main thoroughfares, due to the fact that many streets in Berkeley have been blocked off. As a result, drivers travel thru Albany to get to their destinations and do so at a frightening rate of speed, unmindful of pedestrian rights. It is not uncommon to see cars racing down Solano or Marin at 45 miles per hour in a 25 mile an hour zone. This is especially hard on very old people who are attempting to cross so they can reach the Senior Center, and many who would otherwise attend, are staying away precisely for this reason.

Oldsters have complained to us that they have been forced to wait a long time, often in inclement weather, before traffic eased up sufficiently for them to get up the courage to attempt to cross, and then they do so with fear and trepidation. In view of this hazardous situation and for the sake of the senior's safety and peace-of-mind, we strongly urge that the Albany City Council act to install traffic signals at these two strategic corners.

Our new up-dated discount lists are now ready. Seniors may obtain them at the center.

The only trouble with no-stick Hubba Bubba is that everybody wants it. No wonder. Hubba Bubba is soft, juicy, and delicious. Not to mention the fact that only Hubba Bubba has amazing no-stick bubbles (So you can blow big, fat bubbles that won't stick to your face). Which is why there's a good chance your store might be temporarily sold out. But we're working around the clock to make enough Hubba Bubba to keep your favorite stores supplied.

THE GANG — Here are the players of the baseball game of the century — the match between the Albany Police Officers Association and the Police Officer's sponsored Little League team.

Cops cop annual game

By BILL LEWIS
ALBANY — The Senior Division Champion Colts battled their sponsors, the Albany Police Officer Association, in a recent slobball game.

John Ford dazzled the Colt hitters with his pitching, keeping them off balance and scoreless over the first four innings. John, with this win, became the winningest APOA pitcher in local competition.

Key hits for the APOA was a triple(?) by Jim Simmons, a three-run home run by Mike Ayers and a grand slam by Larry Murdo. Colts had hits by Don August, Mike Lewis, Randall Phillips, Eric Elmore, Steven Young, Bill Lewis, and Ray Young.

The final score was 12-10 with the Colts having the bases loaded, two outs and mighty Ray Young at bat when a screaming liner to left field caught by Oren Rae, APOA outfielder.

This game broke two streaks, with the Colts losing after nine straight wins and the APOA winning after a few straight losses.

The Colts, after switching from baseball to softball, started to hit and wished to continue to nine innings, but they were talked into being treated to pizza at the Round Table Pizza Parlor, where they were again outscored 15 to 10.

The roster of the Colts included Jim Giblin, Mike Lewis, Dave Stehlin, Pat Brooks, Bill Lewis, Randy Phillips, Steven Young, Eric Elmore, Don August and Ray Young, with Young, Stehlin and Giblin pitching for the Colts. The Police Officers team was made up of Reyn Foss, John Ford, Bill Palmieri, Jim Simmons, Jerry Koehne, Duncan Gillis, Oren Rae, Larry Murdo, Mike Ayers and Archie Sterling.

LET'S GO Fishing!

By CAPT. DAVE KINLEY
Gas shortage?
You would never believe it if you saw all the boats out fishing over the past week. Even during the week, boats were everywhere.

Oh well, it is one darned good way to have fun and forget everything, also one might come home with dinner!

Ocean salmon fishing was excellent last week with the top salmon going to 50 pounds. Most anglers were catching limits during the week, but came the weekend and the catch flopped. Good weather, but not so many fish. Incidentally, a few salmon are showing in the Bay.

Striped bass fishing has been erratic with spurts showing off and on all over the area. Just have to be lucky and be in the right place at the right time. Then you get into the fish.

Shore fishing has been fair for perch, flounder and kingfish from Berkeley Pier up to Point Molate and Pinole Pier.

Good reports of catfish are coming from Mayberry Slough, across from Antioch, and also from Sherman Island and on Old River behind Quimby Island.

Good fishing and see you next week.

Classes vary at SFSU

SAN FRANCISCO — The Division of Continuing Education at San Francisco State University will offer several new classes this fall, among them "Americans in Paris," "Introduction to Microcomputers," "Popular American Song Styles" and "Discover Your Ears."

Students in the five-week course on "Americans in Paris" will examine the literary and artistic experiences of U.S. expatriates in Paris during the 1920's and 30's. The study of the expatriate movement and its influence on the American intellectual circuit will focus on Hemingway, Fitzgerald, Beach, Stein, Man Ray, and Virgil Thompson.

The class will meet on Tuesdays in the Downtown Community College Center, 8:45 p.m., beginning Sept. 4 and ending Oct. 2. Students will receive one unit of extension credit.

"Introduction to Microcomputers" is designed to help a nonspecialist understand the organization and operation of a microcomputer. Each student will assemble a microcomputer and will study various microcomputer systems made for different purposes.

Students need no training in electrical or computer engineering to enroll, but they should have some basic understanding of a programming language.

The class will meet Tuesdays from 7 p.m. to 9:45 p.m., September 4-December 18. Students receive three units of extension credit.

Singers with voice study or performing backgrounds will form a chorus for "Popular American Song Styles" and will study cabaret, jazz, traditional, and current pop styles. The course will start with standard 1930's and 40's songs and will end with a recital accompanied by a

Classic painting shown

SAN FRANCISCO — The American Galleries of the de Young Memorial Museum have been reinstalled and now display paintings, sculpture, furniture, and decorative art objects recently added to the permanent collection, on recent loan, or previously in storage.

Three paintings which Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III recently donated to the Fine Arts Museums and which have not previously been seen at the Museum are Eastman Johnson's "Woman in White Dress," Martin Johnson Heade's "Orchid and Hummingbird," and "Wild Flowers in a Vase" by George C. Lambdin. "Dinner for Threshers," which was one of the most popular paintings in the 1976 exhibition of American art from the Rockefeller collection, is now on display.

Other recent acquisitions include works of Thomas P. Anshutz, George Caleb Bingham, and Thomas Moran as well as Colonial portraits and American Impressionists and Luminists.

The refurbished American Galleries have been structured so that individual galleries complement its paintings in the taste and style of a certain period. Objects which are displayed for the first time include bronze statues by Arthur Putnam, a rare 18th century mirror by John Eliot, an elegant gown worn to Abraham Lincoln's second inaugural ball, and pieces from an Art Nouveau silver service.

Wood engravings designed by Winslow Homer are featured in the graphic art section of the American Galleries.

"Wooded Landscape," which was recently attributed to Thomas Barker, is now on display at the Museum.

Thomas Barker was a follower of Thomas Gainsborough. He lived and worked in Bath, a fashionable spa which was also one of the major art centers outside of London in 18th century England. Barker was the most accomplished and successful painter in a large artistic family.

"Wooded Landscape," which was donated recently by Mrs. Alfred Ehrman, may be compared with five nearby Gainsborough paintings, one of which is the landscape "The Market

Season on doves opens Saturday

ALBANY — For the fifth consecutive year, conditions are near ideal over most of the state for the opening of dove hunting season Saturday although, as usual, cool weather already has begun moving birds out of California. There is a noticeable scarcity in the Sacramento Valley.

Although prospects for hunter success are poorer this year than last in the northeast where dry weather has depressed dove supplies, those in the balance of the state are excellent, said the Department of Fish and Game.

The breeding population index shows no significant change from that for 1978 when slightly less than 200,000 hunters took about 3.2 million doves, both figures down fractionally from the year before.

However, said the DFG, the hunter success rate was 15 percent better than that for the 1977 season.

Good hunting opportunities are predicted for the San Joaquin Valley and in most desert areas. Large numbers of doves have been seen in southern coastal counties. If the weather holds, hunting for white-winged doves along the Colorado River should be excellent.

In this year's split season, the first half will run through September 30. The season will reopen November 17 and continue through December 2. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Daily bag limit is 10 birds with 20 allowed in possession after the first day.

White-winged doves may be taken only in Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. The bag and possession limits apply to the aggregate of species where white-wings are allowed.

Museums have new member organization

SAN FRANCISCO — The Museum Society, which has been closed since January, is open once again to new members.

The Museum Society is a membership organization for the Asian Art Museum and the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco (comprised of the de Young Memorial Museum and the California Palace of the Legion of Honor).

The privileges of new members will include free admission to the museums, discounts in the bookshops, and invitations to special events. New members, however, will not receive tickets to the "Treasures of Tutankhamun" exhibit.

More information can be found in the new membership brochure, which has an application form attached. Send your name and address to The Museum Society, de Young Museum, Golden Gate Park, San Francisco 94118.

Artesanos Mexicanos at museum

OAKLAND — The works of three contemporary Mexican folk artists will be featured at an Oakland Museum exhibition, "Artesanos Mexicanos," which opens Saturday.

The three artists are Pedro Linares, Sabina Sanchez, and Manuel Jimenez, who work with papier mache, embroidery, and wood-carving respectively.

Pedro Linares, now in his 70's, works in Mexico City making traditional fiesta figures with his three adult sons. He also has created his own surrealistic, dragon-like creatures called "Alebrijes."

Sabina Sanchez lives in a small village in Oaxaca where she embroiders dresses and blouses with traditional designs and patterns.

Manuel Jimenez is a farmer from Oaxaca. He carves wooden animals and scenes from his daily village life as well as the heroic figure of his culture and religion.

Accompanying the exhibition are films about the three artists and their work.

"Artesanos Mexicanos" was developed by Judith Bronowski, who was guest curator for the Craft and Folk Art Museum in Los Angeles. The show will leave Oakland October 28 to travel to Scottsdale, Arizona, the final city of its tour.

The Oakland Museum is located at 1000 Oak Street, one block from the Lake Merritt BART station.

Pinafore continues at Geary

SAN FRANCISCO — Gilbert and Sullivan's burlesque of the British Navy, "H.M.S. Pinafore," continues its three-week engagement at the Geary Theatre in San Francisco until September 2.

Allan Lokos, who produced the "Gilbert and Sullivan A La Carte" series, directs the current production. Sara Ann Noll and James Wilson star as the lovers Josephine and Ralph, who are kept apart by class distinction.

Noll has performed about fifteen Gilbert and Sullivan roles, as well as opera, oratorio, and Broadway musicals.

Other major roles are: Little Buttercup, played by Jocelyn Wilkes; Cousin Hebe, played by Joan August; and Dick Deadeye, played by Kenneth Bell.

Performance times are 8 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays, 8:30 p.m., Fridays, 2:30 and 8:30 p.m., Saturdays, and 3 p.m., Sundays. For reservations, call the Geary Theatre Box Office at 673-6440.

Waller tribute to open

SAN FRANCISCO — "Ain't Misbehavin'," Broadway's 1978 Tony Award winner for Best Musical, will begin a limited engagement Tuesday at the Curran Theatre in San Francisco.

"Ain't Misbehavin'" is a tribute to the jazz singer and pianist Thomas "Fats" Waller, and the songs are all either composed, collaborated on, or recorded by "Fats." The musical evokes an entire era on stage: Harlem in the 30s, stride piano players the Cotton Club, rent parties, and the swing beat.

"Ain't Misbehavin'" originally was performed at the cabaret of the Manhattan Theatre Club and opened on Broadway at the Longacre Theatre in 1978. It received three Tony Awards, the New York Drama Critics' Award, the Outer Critics' Award, and the Drama Desk Award, all for Best Musical of the 1977-78 season. The original cast album on RCA records recently won a Grammy.

The original creators and designers of the Broadway show are Richard Malby, Jr., who conceived and directed "Ain't Misbehavin'" and was awarded a Tony for Best Director of a Musical, Choreographer Arthur Faria, Musical Supervisor Luther Henderson, Associate Director Murray Horwitz, Vocal Arranger William Elliot, Set Designer John Lee Beatty, Costume Designer Randy Barcelo, and Lighting Designer Pat Collins. They are continuing their roles for this production and have assembled the national company for limited engagements in 12 major cities in the next 18 months.

The cast consists of Teresa Bowers, Yvette Freeman, Ben Harney, Adrienne Lenox, and Ken Prymus. Accompanied by conductor-pianist J. Leonard Oxley and a six-piece onstage band, they will perform more than thirty songs including "The Joint is Jumpin'," "Two Sleepy People," "Honkeysuckle Rose," and "Your Feet's Too Big."

The first performance Tuesday will be a preview at reduced prices. "Ain't Misbehavin'" will continue Tuesday through Thursday at 8 p.m., Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30 p.m., and Sunday at 3 p.m.

Tickets are available by mail order, at BASS, Ticketron, Macy's, Emporium, Capwell's, and all major outlets. For group sales and to charge tickets, call 673-4400.

Dear Friends — As you read this column I shall be tooting through Europe having a wonderful time, picking up ideas for your future travel. I always annoy my husband by examining hotel and meal bills carefully for padding and arguing if it isn't right. I usually have to sneak down to the desk early to figure out if they've added a nonexistent "maid service" or phone call. On the plus side, I DO tend to overtip.

Our agency will have a new addition as you read this. Mrs. Estelle Bern — we are happy to have her and feel you will find her maturity and competence up to your and our standards. We shall introduce her in more detail later!

We would like to add a few reminders about travel. First, if you travel frequently, a good travel agency keeps your preferences on file. Where do you like to sit on the plane? Smoking, non-smoking, aisle or window seat? Do you even prefer a certain side of the plane? Do you prefer twin or queen-sized beds (if available)? Do you prefer to travel and pay the single supplement? Do you want your credit card number on file so we can have everything ready for pickup? Do you know your American Express card carries with it insurance coverage while traveling? As most of you know, the American Express card allows a higher credit limit than the bank cards and has an extended payment provision. The interest comes to 12 percent a year and the way the dollar is going, why not pay off in a depreciated dollar?

It isn't too early to book trips for next spring. We have a booking on a March departure on a deluxe Maupintour trip that covers 21 deluxe days in Portugal and Spain. This tour company really pampers clients and we love it. Some clients never switch after taking one. We have had two clients return from a Tauck Tour to Hawaii — four islands and constant little surprises (pleasant ones) — all meals ala carte included, rest days, charming escorts. Some people think only of Tauck Tours Fall Foliage Tours on the East Coast, but they have quite a program nationwide. It isn't too early either to sign up for next fall's tour of the East on Tauck. They switch seats on their deluxe motorcoaches frequently and don't allow smoking.

We have had a great number of clients buying trips around the U.S. for visitors from other countries. The number of trips available around the U.S. are dizzying and delightful — besides being great for the U.S. balance of payments! More on this in a later column. Arrivederci for today!
